Sample Hourly Sales Report

This report shows you, essentially, how busy you are throughout the day. Each column to the right will provide a breakdown of the number of transactions, items, etc. that were processed in the corresponding hour. This will provide you with the information necessary to make any staff-related decisions.

The number of transactions, for example, may not necessarily reflect how busy the kitchen gets during rush hour (since it is possible to have few transactions, but a high number of items sold), and vice-versa. If fewer items are being sold but there are a large number of transactions being processed, more employees will be needed to staff the POS Stations.

Additional Settings
