Thank you for making GOOD happen.

This is our fundamental and guiding philosophy.
We give not as charity or obligation,
nor as a single act of involvement,
but with enthusiasm and confidence and vision,
for the improved health and betterment of all.
For us it's about extending ourselves wholly,
seeking out the needs of others and promising to engage.
Over time this has revealed something extraordinary:

when we give, we grow.

In service of the greater good, we inevitably discover our greater selves.
Connected in compassion, we earn the privilege of changing the world.
And this is priceless.
Often it may be tempting to measure achievement in dollars,
as the financial demands attached to our aspirations can be substantial,
but we never lose sight of the bigger picture.
At Bon Secours we are successful because we have a longstanding tradition of giving creatively and cooperatively.
Money and time, ideas and imagination, resources and opportunity.
Indeed, we are driven by a most simple conviction:

Giving makes good happen.

To everyone who helps us in this crucial enterprise, all of us at the Bon Secours Richmond Foundation are honored to provide stewardship to your noble intentions, your unshakable faith, and your uplifting expressions of humanity.
