First Year of study Support [in liquid assets]	Amount $ USD
Enter the amount that you will provide to the student in US Dollars to cover their first year of study. For current cost estimates, go to http://global.usf.edu/is/pro-admission_cost.php . With this promissory note, you must submit official documentation of liquid assets in US Dollars. Liquid assets are assets that can be easily converted into cash. You may show bank statements, bank letters, or other savings accounts. Documents should be in English or include an official translation.

Additional Support Needed for Dependents: If you have a spouse or children that will accompany you to the United States, you must include an additional $5,000 per year for your spouse and per each child. Please note that this estimate for dependents is the minimum amount you must show. If purchasing insurance in the U.S. for dependents, actual costs for your dependents will likely increase.
