

University College London Model Release Form

Under the Data Protection Act (1998) your consent is required before University College London can use, publish and store either still or moving images taken of you.

I agree to my image being taken and used in any printed and/or electronic promotional material. I understand that all data will be stored securely and this may be used in future promotional material produced by or on behalf of University College London.

I can withdraw my consent at anytime, although I understand that any published material will not be recalled if I choose to withdraw my consent.

Name (please PRINT):

Signature:

Date:

If the subject is under 16, please provide name and signature of parent/guardian/school as applicable. Teachers can sign on behalf of a class if consent has previously been given by parents.

University College London Model Release Form

Under the Data Protection Act (1998) your consent is required before University College London can use, publish and store either still or moving images taken of you.

I agree to my image being taken and used in any printed and/or electronic promotional material. I understand that all data will be stored securely and this may be used in future promotional material produced by or on behalf of University College London.

I can withdraw my consent at anytime, although I understand that any published material will not be recalled if I choose to withdraw my consent.

Name (please PRINT):

Signature:

Date:

If the subject is under 16, please provide name and signature of parent/guardian/school as applicable. Teachers can sign on behalf of a class if consent has previously been given by parents.