Ad 2. Getting to Know the Group
SP introduced a new game to get to know each other within the group. Each member who was holding the ball had to introduce himself/herself and admit one quality.

Ad 3. Getting to Know EONS (LS, JdeM)
1. News from EONS by EONS President, LS LS welcomed everyone and said she is very proud because YCN are the future. i. RECaN Project: LS mentioned that due to the RECaN project we now have scientific evidence and validated for research. We have received a lot of recognition for that and we are now gathering more papers on patient safety to impact cancer nursing. Our goal remains to recognize cancer nursing specialty which is now driven by an evidence base. ii. ECND2019: In May 2019 we are planning a meeting with members from all 4 WGs. Last year it was a big success with a great impact. LS encouraged YCNs to nominate their institute or national society to host the meeting. iii. EONS12@ESMO2019 LS informed that we are planning to host again a 3-days nursing track during the next EONS12 Congress with ESMO since our collaboration was very successful. 2. News from EONS by EONS Education WG Chair, RV RV welcomed everyone to the meeting. i. EONS Board, Staff and Strategy She remarked that each member within a WG can serve for maximum 6 years. There have been some changes with the membership. Emma Woodford is the new COO and BM can serve for maximum 6 years as well. Over the last year a strategic planning process has taken place and the new strategy is currently being implemented. ii. Masterclass RV highlighted the opportunities and experience YCN can gain via education in EONS and encouraged them to apply for participating in Masterclasses. News from EONS by EONS Communication WG Chair, JdeM JdeM emphasized the importance of YCN roles in spreading the word about EONS especially via Social Media and asked them to get involved to make it even better. He announced the creation of a supportive tool on Social media within the upcoming months and called on everyone to share their ideas if they have any.	A#1: LS calls out everyone including YCN for applying to host the next meeting for ECND2019 by encouraging the local press or national societies. A#2: LS we need to invite Spanish member to EONS12@ESMO2019 and consider hiring a translator to deal with the language barrier.
Ad 4. News from each representative (All, 60min)
LS pointed out the importance of taking the opportunity to share our experiences and discuss our challenges. She said that at EONS we have the responsibility to make a friendly environment so that we can provide support and let everyone express themselves. RV added that we all face difficulties which might not be easily solved but we can always receive help from EONS. JdeM encouraged YCN to contact them directly if they face any problems.

We discussed the YCNs experiences, challenges and possibilities to improve support. Each YCN then introduced themselves and said how they joined EONS. LS added that nurses are the largest group in healthcare in most countries and nursing is the most trusted profession because of their hard work. Whenever there is a project, a large number of nurses are ready to engaged and other organizations are impressed. It is a shared work and not just one person, and that's something to be proud about. STP added that we have 31 national associations at the time being. RV marked that there is no support in some countries. There are a lot of challenges within the work-place, but EONS is an important arena where cancer nurses need not feel so alone. LS suggested that we keep a close eye on change in countries we know have challenges with safety standards to ensure that we are having an impact in the right places.
Ad 5. YCN survey results (STP, 45mins)
STP announced that we have received 200 answers for the YCN Survey. LS added that the number is positive since the survey was released in October and it has been running for only 2 months. JdeM reminded that the Biosimilars Survey is still ongoing until the end of February and called everyone to take the survey and share within their networks to be able to give more feedback to policy makers. The early results indicate that many people are unaware about EONS activities and events but STP opposed that this might be a positive sign since they can now join and find out more. STP said that they were also not aware about the EONS Cancer Nursing Educational Framework and called on the Comms WG to work more intensely in promoting it. STP highlighted that YCN need to think about new strategies to boost the Survey and suggested hosting an event in their countries. JdeM wondered whether YCN knew about the European School of Oncology. RV introduced the EONS Cancer Nursing Educational Framework. She informed YCN that it has been recently updated and is one of the best EONS projects giving guidance about understanding the level of knowledge needed in order to call yourselves cancer nurses. There are 8 modules; each of these modules has different outcomes and uses a different terminology. STP encouraged all YCN to download and send the document to their managers and chiefs. She concluded that we have got good data to work on and we can use the fact that many of the respondents didn't know EONS as this will help us work on finding new members.	A#3: Take/Share the #Young-CancerNurses Survey: bit.ly/2HpwLpg A#4: Take/Share the #Biosimilars Survey: bit.ly/2UdKO2N A#5: YCN to promote EONS Cancer Nursing Educational Framework https://bit.ly/2RHkmxs within their national societies and networks.
Ad 6. Meeting Closure
STP thanked everyone for attending the first YCN meeting and asked them to contact her directly if they have any questions or ideas.
