Dear Friend,

In 1999 I founded InLiquid, a nonprofit dedicated to connecting artists and audiences in Philadelphia, because everyone needs art in their lives to be exuberant and to find hope, beauty, and purpose. InLiquid was founded to help artists build sustainable careers, and to make the work of Philadelphia's dynamic visual arts community accessible to all.

Today this mission is more imperative than ever, and our creative community continues to make art accessible to all. InLiquid is creating opportunities for people to use art as a catalyst for civic engagement and expression, and for calls for social change.

In 2020, InLiquid worked with 644 artists to advance their careers and present their work to new audiences with free art exhibitions, hands-on workshops, and creative events in person and online. Your generous support of InLiquid provides this free arts programming to over 25,000 people in person and over 100,000 unique web visitors annually. Thank you!

Our annual Benefit Art Auction will be held April 7-11 both in person and online. With 200 works of art for public viewing during socially distanced gallery hours at the Crane Arts Building and feature everything in an online auction – viewable from anywhere.

This year, we are offering combined sponsorship with donor acknowledgement, marketing, and activations at all three of our biggest events:

- The InLiquid Benefit Art Auction, April 7 -11
 - at Crane Arts Building, 1400 N American St, Philadelphia
- Art for the Cash Poor, June 12
 - at NextFAB, 1800 N American St, Philadelphia
- Sculpture in the Glen III, September 25-November 1
 - Vernissage on October 2
 - at the Burch Estate, Gladwyne

The following pages detail the events, levels of support and benefits. If you have any questions, please contact Development Director, Juliette Cook by e-mail at juliette@inliquid.org, or by phone at 917-385-5486 (c) or 215-235-3405 (o). Warmest regards,

Rachel Zimmerman
Founder, Executive/Artistic Director, InLiquid
