

Acceptable Technology Use Agreement Summary

A network access account is provided to you only if you agree to the full terms of the Acceptable Use Agreement and understand that failure to follow the terms of that agreement (to any degree) will result in academic and/or legal disciplinary action as well as revocation of network access and technology use privileges. We hope you will benefit from these privileges, and we strongly encourage you to make network access and technology use a regular component of your work at the Center for Instruction, Technology & Innovation (CiTi.) We require that you review the complete details of Acceptable Use Agreement, as your signature on this document is your agreement to comply with all aspects of the complete agreement. The complete document is available at <http://www.oswegoboces.org/0309NetAgreement.pdf> or you may request a printed copy from the Instructional Technology team by calling (315) 963-4305

In summary, the Acceptable Use Agreement addresses the following topics:

1. Privacy & Respect

- a. Your data files, electronic storage areas, and email are considered CiTi property, subject to CiTi control and inspection at any time without notice.
- b. As a CiTi student, you may not disclose any information that personally identifies you or any other individual. This includes home address, phone numbers, last name, or any other information that would allow you to be located.

2. Responsibility for Your Account Security

- a. You are responsible for the use of your network account and should take all reasonable precautions to prevent others from using your account.
- b. Under no circumstances are you to provide your password to another user.

3. Illegal or Destructive Activities

- a. You may not use technology or the network for any purpose that violates the law or that threatens the integrity of the network or any connected devices
- b. Examples of unacceptable use include distributing or installing software or accessing storage areas or computers beyond those granted by your account.

4. Inappropriate Material

- a. You will not use the network to access or distribute material that is obscene, pornographic, indecent or hateful or that advocates illegal acts, violence or discrimination towards other people.
- b. If you inadvertently access such information, you should immediately disclose the inadvertent access to your teacher or the network administrator.
- c. You are not to use obscene, profane, vulgar, inflammatory, threatening, bullying or disrespectful language to harass another person.

5. Resource Limits

- a. No software shall be placed or installed on a workstation without permission from Instructional Technology personnel.
- b. You must respect the legal protections provided by copyright law and software license agreements related to content of any kind, software, and any other protected materials.

Your Agreement - P-TECH Class

I have read and agree to follow the guidelines of this document and the rules contained in the Acceptable Use Agreement. I understand that if I violate the rules, my account can be terminated, and I may face other disciplinary measures. I hereby release the school, its personnel and any institutions with which it is affiliated from any all claims and damages of any nature arising from the use of, or inability to use, the system, including by not limited to claims that may arise from the unauthorized use of the system to purchase products or services.
