Artist Proposal 2019-2020

Since 1977, SPARC has hosted exhibitions that inspire social change and amplify the voices of marginalized communities. SPARC aims to present socially relevant and politically conscious art, whether visual or performing, especially for underserved audiences. SPARC accepts proposals from artists to show work that connects with our mission to speak to the most pressing social, political, and environmental issues of our times.

In 2020, SPARC gallery programming will focus on art created by refugee artists or artists responding to issues of asylum, displacement, and migration in relation to the many reasons that individuals or communities may seek refuge. To learn more, visit <http://sparcinla.org/durongallery/>.

We review proposals quarterly. If your proposal is advanced to the next stage of selection, you will be contacted directly. Due to the volume of proposals we cannot respond to each proposal.
