

Essay on the culture, tradition, festival and languages from Pauri Garhwal.

Students from KLS Gogte Institute of technology Belagavi are from various places covering rural and major urban areas.

Students from our college studying from in and around Belagavi have written down this beautiful and small essay describing the details about Pauri Garhwal, they have attached some pictures too for understanding the scenic beauty around the place.

Students were given a period of time to complete it and they have submitted within time with 27 essays providing the details like culture of the place what and how the culture is developed in the north India part of hilly region, the tradition they follow and the festivals which are the major ones and how they celebrate. Also the languages spoken in that area.

The students have pen it down with a lot of research from net about the place and filled with enthusiasm to know more about the place.
