A Peek at Our Week

- Reading: This week we will be going back to studying about Nonfiction Text Structures.
- Math: We are continuing to study area and perimeter this week.
- Science: This week we will continue studying about matter and its three states.
- Social Studies: We will be finishing up the Revolutionary War this week.
- Language: We are continuing Subject & predicates this week and will study that all month!

A Note From Your Teacher

Students are receiving some really low spelling and vocab quiz grades. This tells me they are not practicing enough at home. So, until our grades start to improve, homework is no longer optional. I will be taking recess for them to complete homework if they did not complete it at home the night before. Thank you for your understanding!

CLASSROOM NEWS

Multiplication Homework

- Write your $\times 6$ facts two times each night

Reading Homework

Please, please, please make sure students
are reading 20-30
min every night!!!

Spelling Homework

- Tuesday: 1 game on Spelling City OR write your words 3 times each
- Wednesday: 1 game on Spelling City OR Write each of your 17 words in a sentence.
- Thursday: 1 game on Spelling City OR write your words waterfall style

Math Homework

Please check my class webpage daily for math homework. It is too difficult to plan math homework ahead of time for 3 groups because I like to have it be a review of what we did in class that day, and I usually move at the pace of the kids and their understanding.
